HEAD COACH NICK MYERS

Nick Myers completed his sixth season as head coach for the Ohio State men's lacrosse team in 2014. In the summer of 2013, Myers agreed to a five-year contract extension with Ohio State. He took over the program July 10, 2008, after three seasons as the top assistant for the Buckeyes. He will lead the Buckeye program into a new era, as 2014-15 marks the first year men's lacrosse will be an official Big Ten Conference sport.

In his first six years as the Buckeyes' head coach, Myers posted a 50-43 ledger overall and a 21-14 conference record, with the squad earning a berth each year a conference tournament was held. He has led the Buckeyes to the first postseason and Creator's Trophy titles in program history, a share of a league regular-season title, a spot in the NCAA quarterfinals and to a No. 3 seed in the NCAA tournament en route to the first NCAA tournament game at home.

Under his tutelage, members of the program have garnered 11 USILA All-America honors, 29 all-conference nods and six conference player of the year accolades. Over the past six years, members of the Ohio State team have earned 102 Academic All-Big Ten accolades, 145 Ohio State Scholar-Athlete nods and 35 Academic All-ECAC honors, along with the first six USILA Scholar All-American selections in program history. The squad maintains a team cumulative grade-point average above a 3.0.

The team's community service numbers rise each year, with the program volunteering more than 1,800 hours in the community the last three seasons combined.

In 2014, the Buckeyes (6-8) shared the ECAC regular season title in the last year competing in the conference, posting a 3-1 league ledger and earning a spot in the conference tournament. The Showdown in the Shoe returned to Ohio Stadium, with the Buckeyes downing Michigan in front of more than 31,000 fans prior to the Ohio State football spring game. Joe Meurer was named the ECAC Defensive Player of the Year and led eight Buckeyes as all-conference selections. Meurer and Jesse King, a Tewaaraton Award Top 25 candidate, earned USILA All-America accolades, with King on the third team and Meurer an honorable mention pick. Meurer also was named a Scholar All-America by the USILA.

The 2013 campaign was one of the best in program history, posting a 13-4 ledger for the most wins for a Buckeye team since 1978. Ten of the victories were during the regular season, just the fifth time a Buckeye team hit double-digit wins before entering postseason play. The squad downed both Penn State and Michigan on the road to claim the Creator's Trophy for the first time. Wins over ranked opponents Loyola and Denver lifted the Buckeyes to the ECAC tournament crown and the No. 3 seed in the NCAA tournament. Nearly 2,400 fans - a number that ranked fourth nationally among all first-round sites - watched the Buckeyes beat Towson 16-6 to advance to the NCAA quarterfinals for the second time in school history.

Individually, Logan Schuss became the program's all-time leading goal scorer and a two-time ECAC Offensive Player of the Year, as well as the first Buckeye to earn first team all-conference accolades four times. Schuss was a second team All-American and Dominique Alexander, King and Meurer all were named honorable mention All-Americans, just the second time in program history four Buckeyes were recognized and the first time since 2008. Three Buckeyes - Schuss, Alexander and Trey Wilkes - were named USILA Scholar All-Americans.

The 2012 campaign saw the Buckeyes (8-7) earn a spot in the ECAC tournament semifinals after finishing second in the regular season with a 5-1 league ledger. Schuss was named the ECAC Offensive Player of the Year and joined Joe Bonanni on the USILA All-America third team, with four Buckeyes named to the All-ECAC team. Matt Kawamoto and Bonanni became the first USILA Scholar All-Americans in program history.

In 2011, the Buckeyes (8-8) earned a spot in the inaugural ECAC tournament. The team was 5-2 at home, including a 13-8 upset of No. 3-ranked North Carolina Feb. 19 in Ohio Stadium, the program's first win over a Top 3 opponent in history. A record 28 Buckeyes were invited to the Scholar-Athlete dinner, with a league-high 10 Ohio State players named to the ECAC All-Academic team. Kawamoto, a USILA Honorable Mention All-American, picked up ECAC Defensive Player of the Year accolades and was one of four Buckeyes named to the all-conference teams.

In 2010, the Buckeyes (7-8) faced one of the toughest schedules in the nation as they began play as a member of the ECAC Lacrosse League. The squad had a 5-2 ledger at home, and highlighting the home slate was the third-annual Showdown in the Shoe when the Buckeyes topped Air Force with a record attendance of 31,078. Schuss was named ECAC Rookie of the Year and became the first Buckeye freshman to nab All-America honors after leading the ECAC in points per game and was one of two Buckeyes recognized on the all-conference team.

In 2009, his first season at the helm of the Buckeye program, Myers led Ohio State (8-8) to a spot in the Great Western Lacrosse League championship game after a third-place finish in the league's regular-season standings despite losing two All-Americans and four all-conference selections from the 2008 squad that reached the NCAA quarterfinals. Senior All-American Joel Dalgarno, who finished his career as Ohio State's all-time leading goal scorer and ranked second all-time in points, led the GWLL and was sixth nationally with 3.81 points per game. In all, seven Buckeyes were named all-conference, with two first team selections.

As the top assistant under Joe Breschi at Ohio State from 2006-08, Myers served as the offensive coordinator for the Buckeyes, oversaw recruiting and handled other aspects of the day-to-day operation of the men's lacrosse program.

HEAD COACH NICK MYERS

In 2008, Myers helped guide the Buckeyes to a share of the Great Western Lacrosse League regular-season title and an at-large berth into the NCAA tournament. The team downed Cornell on the road for the program's first NCAA tournament victory and berth in the quarterfinal round. He was the offensive coordinator as the Buckeyes ended the season third in the NCAA in scoring offense (13.2 goals per game) and extra-man offense (45.7 percent).

Away from lacrosse: Enjoys spending time with friends and family

MYERS' COACHING VISION

I look at coaching as an opportunity to teach and impact young men who hold a burning desire to play the game of lacrosse. As a teacher I feel you must first seek to understand, before you are understood. The delicate balance of family, religion, education, lacrosse and free time in a student athlete's life are the backbone of successful teaching. Three values and beliefs reinforce my optimism that doing the right thing will prevail. The first is collaboration, the second is consensus, and the third is empowerment.

I understand the importance of building trust with players and committing every bit as much as they do to studying and learning the game. The common goal of sacrificing for something intangible is what drives a team and brings them together. It is a game that consumes me, rewards me and has ultimately shaped who I am. My driving force is to provide every student-athlete the opportunity to have this experience and to grow as a young adult. The student-athlete experience is not a four-year commitment; it is a life long commitment. There is nothing more rewarding than watching a young man come in open to new ideas and move on seasoned and prepared for the challenges that lie ahead.

To be the best player and the best coach you must be a student of the game. To understand the history of the sport of lacrosse, to study the role of each player on and off the field, to see the entire picture of each players' role and what they bring to the team's success is the legacy of coaching I get to pass along. I have been truly blessed with the opportunity to teach the game I love and a game which has impacted me in such a tremendous way. I cherish the rewards received as a coach working with student-athletes and working to gain a better understanding of the ups and downs of the profession every day. I rely on experience and an incredible circle of both family and mentors I have been associated with to guide me on this journey. Each day represents my continued effort to grow and learn in pursuit of my vision as both a teacher and coach. When all is said and done, this is the legacy I pass down to each player I have the privilege of working with that they take into their own future endeavors.

2014 SEASON IN REVIEW

NOTING THE 2014 BUCKEYES

- Ohio State finished the 2014 season with a share of the ECAC regular season title, as the Buckeyes, Fairfield and Air Force each posted matching 3-1 records. It is the first share of a regular season title for the Buckeyes since they were Great Western Lacrosse League co-champions in 2008.
- Highlighted by senior Joe Meurer's ECAC Defensive Player of the Year award, nine Buckeyes were recognized with ECAC Lacrosse League postseason honors. Defense-men Meurer and Robby Haus, along with midfielder Turner Evans, were named First Team All-ECAC, while attackmen Ryan Hunter and Jesse King, midfielder David Planning, LSM (specialist) Dominic Imbordino and goalie Scott Spencer were named second team all-conference. Jake Withers was named to the All-Rookie Team as a faceoff specialist. The honorees were selected by a vote of the league's coaches (who could not vote for their own players) and Ohio State led the league with eight members on the first and second teams. Meurer was named First Team All-ECAC for the second year in a row and is the second Buckeye to be named the league's defensive player of the year, joining 2011 honoree Matt Kawamoto. Ohio State has won at least one major postseason award each since joining the ECAC in 2010. Logan Schuss was the 2010 ECAC Rookie of the Year, Kawamoto captured defensive player honors in 2011, Schuss was the ECAC Offensive Player of the Year in both 2012 and 2013 and Carter Brown earned rookie of the year accolades in 2013.
- Meurer went on to earn Honorable Mention All-America honors for the second year in a row, along with USILA Scholar All-America accolades and a spot in the North-South Senior All-Star Game. It marked the third-consecutive year Ohio State has had a USILA academic honoree after Joe Bonanni and Matt Kawamoto were the first Buckeyes in program history honored in 2012 and three picked up accolades in 2013.
- Junior Jesse King led the ECAC with 4.29 points per game, posting a team-high 29 goals and 51 points during the year. He was a third team All-American, moving up from honorable mention accolades as a sophomore. King was a Top 25 candidate for the Tewaaraton Award. He has 131 points in his career, ranking 17th in program history, and enters his senior year on a 36-game point streak.
- Ohio State finished the year 11th in the NCAA in scoring defense, giving up 8.57 goals a game. The Buckeyes held opponents to less than 10 goals in eight of the last 11 games and allowed seven goals or less in six games on the year.
- After starting the season 1-5, Ohio State won five of six games (and four in a row) to even its record at 6-6.
- The Buckeyes were third in the NCAA in clearing percentage (.918), converting 225-of-245 chances. The team was 22-for-22 vs. Penn State and 21-for-21 at Johns Hopkins Feb. 9, along with a 17-for-17 day vs. UMass Feb. 16 and 16-for-16 outing March 8 at Hofstra.
- The Showdown in the Shoe returned to Ohio Stadium, as the Buckeyes hosted Michigan in a Division I game in Columbus for the first time. Ohio State downed the Wolverines, 15-6, in front of an announced attendance of 17,641 that grew to 31,000+ by the end of the game. Ohio State shut out the Wolverines for the final 35:24 en route to the win.

HISTORY IN THE SHOE

April 19, 2008, the Ohio State men's lacrosse team set NCAA regular-season and on-campus attendance records when 29,601 fans watched the Buckeyes down Denver prior to the football team's spring game in Ohio Stadium. By the end of the lacrosse game, more than 50,000 fans were in the 'Shoe as the Buckeyes closed out a 20-13 victory over the Pioneers in a Great Western Lacrosse League contest.

The following year, the Buckeyes broke their own record when 30,192 were on hand when attendance was taken during the contest between the Buckeyes and Notre Dame April 25, 2009. The football spring game went on to set a national attendance record of 95,722, with many of those fans in the seats before the lacrosse game ended.

The 2010 edition again broke the national records, as 31,078 watched the Buckeyes down Air Force, 10-6, in an ECAC Lacrosse League game. The contest was televised live on the Big Ten Network, marking the first men's lacrosse game broadcast live on the network. The 2011 and '12 editions of the game, with Ohio State hosting Fairfield and Air Force in a league game, respectively, also were televised live by BTN. The Showdown in the Shoe was not held in 2013 because of construction in Ohio Stadium, but returned for 2014 and was the first game between Ohio State and Michigan as Division I foes in Columbus. The Buckeyes downed UM, 15-6, in the game televised on BTN. The 2015 Showdown features Ohio State vs. Maryland in a B1G matchup.
